Near the close of this discussion, Supervisor Lester Petrie, chairman of the roads committee, rose and summed up the attitude of the supervisors on the unemployed question, and the offer of the Associated Charities with regard to it in the following manner:

"I think the members of the board are opposed to putting these men to work on the streets. I am against it personally. I think it is a bad precedent; that there is no telling where it will lead. The city and county is not in too good financial condition. We cannot afford any additional expense. There is a large number of unemployed citizens who should be put to work. There may be some other way out of this trouble than the one suggested. I hope so."

Abe Lewis, Jr., president of the Associated Charities, appeared at the meeting and modified the proposition made to the board by Spencer Bowen, manager. The latter had worked on a scheme of paying the laborers one dollar each a day, but Mr. Lewis changed this proposition, saying:

"Yesterday the executive committee of the Associated Charities met for the first time on this subject. The Associated Charities is in no position to offer any wage to the unemployed. But we are willing to undertake to furnish meals, rooms, etc. Though today in Honolulu we have no visible bread-line, it appears to the executive committee that we are facing a situation, not a theory. It will grow worse until June at least. We believe the situation should be met at once—that we should take time by the forelock. It seems to me the board of supervisors should take the initiative. And if in doing so you need the assistance of the Associated Charities we will be glad to do what we can."

Present with Mr. Lewis representing the Associated Charities were Spencer Bowen and Miss Emily Farley, head of the employment department. They both spoke. Miss Farley met the argument that the 200 or 300 immigrants now out of jobs should be deported. She pointed out that it would entail an expense of approximately $30,000 to send these men and their families back to their native countries, and she observed that it would be an unwise expedient, for reasons aside from the cost. The labor of all these men, she said, will be in demand within a few months, June or July at the latest.

Would Slip the Buck.

Bowen reviewed the proposition he made to the board originally. He said:

"Since making the proposition to you we have not been idle. We find that there are 28 men seeking work through the Salvation Army, 41 through the Y. M. C. A., four through the Portuguese consul, 20 through the Spanish consul, 80 through the Filipino agency here, and 152 through the Associated Charities. In addition we find there are about 100 Russians, with small savings in the bank, who are out of jobs. This brings the total up to about 300.

Supervisor Pacheco declared the situation was not one the city and county should be made to face, that it was brought on by the planters and the territorial immigration officials, and that they should meet it.

"I feel," he said, "that we are not responsible for this very deplorable condition. But even if we had a right to meet it, the law prohibits our doing so. The planters brought on this condition—it is a nut they should crack. And we should make them crack it. I greatly fear they brought it on from desire. They wanted a surplus of labor that they may reduce the wage scale, and I predict that they will, in the near future, cut the wages."

Will Confer With Governor.

Mr. Lewis asked the board to appoint a committee to confer with the Associated Charities. He said:

"We want it plainly understood that we are not trying to throw citizen labor out of employment. This is no political move. We are not trying to put you in a hole. We think the matter is sufficiently important for a committee of the board of supervisors to meet with us. We are only one agency of several; we are simply taking the initiative."

Mr. Lewis' suggestion was not acted on. Supervisor Walter moved that the whole thing be "referred from," meaning it appeared that no action be taken. But Supervisor Pacheco asked that a committee of three be appointed to confer with the governor, Mayor Fern named Supervisors Pacheco, McClellan and Petrie on the committee.

The committee did not give an intimation of what suggestions will be made in the conference with the governor, or when the conference will take place. Yet from the talk at the meeting, it is clear that deportation is the theory they have for solving the present labor problem.

SUPERVISOR COMMITTEE TO CONFER WITH GOVERNOR ON UNEMPLOYED

Supervisors Refrain from Action, Fearing 'Bad Precedent' May Be Established

A special committee of the board of supervisors will confer with Governor Pinkham on the unemployed problem. This was the decision reached last night at a meeting of the board, when a prolonged discussion was heard on the subject of unemployed laborers.

Near the close of this discussion, Supervisor Lester Petrie, chairman of the roads committee, rose and summed up the attitude of the supervisors on the unemployed question, and the offer of the Associated Charities with regard to it in the following manner:

"I think the members of the board are opposed to putting these men to work on the streets. I am against it personally. I think it is a bad precedent; that there is no telling where it will lead. Official duties thus far have prevented the governor from visiting the island, which he held chosen as the first stop in his itinerary of inter-island trips. His visit to Kauai will last but a day, but he is planning to, at a later date, make a more thorough inspection of the affairs of the Garden Island.
